

Are you a high school student who is considering going into full-time church work? Maybe you're not sure God is calling you to a life of ministry. Maybe you're not sure if Lutheran church work is the direction you want to take. Maybe you've already decided that church work is definitely in your future and you're ready to find out your next step. Wherever you are in the process, you're invited to a special event for teens considering full-time ministry!

What: On the Edge... Stepping into Ministry

Interact with ministry leaders currently in the field and hear their exciting stories. Meet college students who are preparing for full-time ministry. Enjoy getting to know other high school students who are evaluating some of the same major life questions you face. Discover the plans God has for your life!
